COMPANION VOLUME.

Oxford Men and their Colleges.

ILLUSTRATED WITH PORTRAITS AND VIEWS.

A work of reference the copiousness of which cannot be too highly praised.—The Times.

I have received the magnificent book.—The Bishop of Oxford.

A very attractive book to the Oxford men.—The Provost of Queen's.

. . . the truly splendid volume on the Oxford men of the present day.—The President of Corpus.

Your magnificent work on the Colleges of Oxford and its Alumni.—The Master of Pembroke.

PREFACE.

IT had originally been my intention to append the contents of this volume to my "Oxford Men and Their Colleges," but owing to the elaboration of my plan, the book would have attained unwieldy proportions; and I was thus compelled to divide it into two parts.

The present work continues and completes "Alumni Oxonienses," containing the MATRICULATION REGISTER from 1880 to 1892 alphabetically arranged as a distinct division, to which has been added where practicable birthdays, schools, honours, and degrees. It also includes cross-references to all the biographical notices under the respective colleges or elsewhere in the other portion of the work, in addition to the index in that volume.

While the MATRICULATION REGISTER has been placed at my service as before by the University Authorities, the Heads of Houses have allowed me full access to their COLLEGE RECORDS, from which, in the majority of instances, I have been enabled to glean the birthdays and schools of their members since 1880, thus accentuating and perpetuating the link between the Schools and the Universities. Moreover, from the official University publications, viz.: the Honours register, Calendar, and Gazette, I have incorporated the particulars of the Honours, the degrees, and the appointments relating to each individual. This elaborate array of facts, together with the miscellaneous annotations from Crockford and my own collections, especially parliamentary and legal, should prove a trustworthy and unique guide, such as can be found nowhere else, to the rising generation of Oxford Men, destined to play so large a part in the government and intellectual life of this country.

The novel feature that I have ventured on this occasion to introduce will, I trust, add considerably to the present interest and future value of these pages. It is my hope that as types of Oxford men and as investing the Register with actuality, my illustrations may prove acceptable.

In the other portion of this work I have illustrated the Colleges as homes, but no picture of Oxford Life could lay claim to completeness which did not show their members at play as well as at work. Indeed, the College Coat, with its distinctive arms, or perhaps its badge, introduces even into the sports of to-day the historic life of Oxford, and reminds us that heraldry, here, at least, has never lost its significance or its pride. The "eight," the "eleven," and the football teams are an integral part of College and University life, and I have included among my illustrations several typical crews and teams by the aid of the collotype process and the agency of Waterlow and Sons, from photographs by Messrs. Hills & Saunders and Messrs. Gillman and Co., Oxford. If the proposition meets with sufficient encouragement I should also some day hope to illustrate the personnel of the University, by groups of its Fellows, Professors, and other distinguished Alumni. It would, I believe, be possible thus to form an illustrated record which should possess a permanent and ever increasing value.

JOSEPH FOSTER.

ST. GEORGE'S HALL, NOW DEMOLISHED.—From Skelton.

Alumni Oxonienses (1500—1886).

Vols. in 4, large 8vo.; handsomely bound in Half-Roan, gilt top. 1500—1714, 4 Vols. in 2, eight guineas; 1715—1886, 4 Vols. in 2, eight guineas.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS, &c.

'Since Anthony Wood, the famous Oxford antiquary, completed and published his "Athenæ Oxonienses," just 200 years ago, no such important contribution has been made to what may be called the biographical history of the University of Oxford as Mr. Joseph Foster has now made, by the publication of his monumental work, entitled "Alumni Oxonienses." . . . Mr. Foster is an expert in scientific genealogy, an enthusiast for rigid biographical accuracy, and his well-known labours in other quarters of this field of research have enabled him to bring to the work of annotation a fund of collateral information which is accessible to no other man. . . . The earlier instalments of his work have been recognized by all competent authorities. . . We cannot but congratulate Mr. Foster on the completion of his gigantic undertaking, and bespeak for it a cordial and, we trust, not un-remunerative recognition. Such labours as his are almost necessarily a work of love rather than of profit; but, at least, they are entitled to a fuller measure of credit and distinction than have so far fallen to his share.'—The Times.

'By far the most important publication relating to Oxford University. . . . We have also to praise, in every respect, the mechanical execution of the book.'—The Oxford Magazine.

'We are glad to be able to congratulate Mr. Foster on the result of this great undertaking. That a single individual should have the energy and the patience to carry through a book of so laborious a character, is a striking testimony to his knowledge and his powers. Three thousand two hundred and sixty-four closely-printed pages, each of them teeming with scores of facts, and positively bristling with dates, represent an achievement of which any man might be proud, and the more so when the general accuracy of this vast mass of information has been so widely and authoritatively acknowledged.—Athenæum.

'This most laborious, extensive, and, considering the space over which it travels, surprisingly full and accurate collection of names, will, henceforth, be absolutely indispensable for the student of academic history.'—Preface to the History of Corpus Christi College, by its President.

'Of the many standard books of reference to which we have been indebted, one at least calls for special recognition. Mr. Joseph Foster's "Alumni Oxonienses" has been of the greatest service to us in identifying many of the names in this Register. We can only hope that the Cambridge Matriculations, when they come to be published, will be edited with as much care and thoroughness as Mr. Foster's valuable work.'—Preface to Westminster School Register.

'Oxford has reason to be thankful to Mr. Foster's zeal and patience.'—English Historical Review.

'A most valuable addition to our sources of genealogical and biographical information. . . . Clearly printed and well got up, its accuracy will be taken for granted by all who know the character of Mr. Foster's earlier publications.'—Saturday Review.

'To every member of either University, to every genealogist, and to all engaged in historical or biographical pursuits, the mere title of the work involves its full recommendation, and tells how formidable a labour Mr. Foster has undertaken. . . . . Mr. Foster's spirited efforts will win him grateful recognition, and we are anxious to give a task such as he now undertakes all the publicity in our power. . . . No public library can indeed afford to be without a work to which the historian and the genealogist must perpetually turn. That a work of this class should be accomplished by private energy and enterprise is nothing short of a marvel.'—Notes and Queries.

'A boon to the nonplussed genealogist . . . and handy book of reference of perpetual use. . . . Everything is ready at hand, complete, concise, authentic. . . . The wonder is how, with the immense mass of matter, with unexceptional paper and print, the volume can be issued at the price.'—The Tablet.

'Upon the extraordinary value of this great undertaking for biographical and genealogical purposes it is unnecessary to dwell. We must content ourselves with calling attention to the rapidity with which it has been passed through the press, and to the low price at which it is issued.'—Academy.

'Here is preserved indubitable proof of those needful facts which are daily sought for with infinite labour by the historian and genealogist.'—Genealogist.

'Mr. Joseph Foster's book, "Alumni Oxonienses," issued this week, is one of those works which inspire with unbounded respect the most casual examiner of their pages. . . . Of its extreme value there can be no possible doubt, and genealogists will not be the only class to regard Mr. Foster as one of their greatest benefactors. . . . The information supplied is for the most part absolutely correct.'—The Record.

'The book arrived safely. Beautiful and interesting.'—The Bishop of Oxford.

'I wish to express my admiration of the manner in which the book has been prepared and edited, and my appreciation of its great value and utility.'—J. Bellamy, D.D., Vice Chancellor.

'A magnificent book. . . . The "Alumni" will be of priceless service to all future workers at the History of Oxford. . . . I have worked through A and B of the new volume, and marvel at its accuracy. . . . By the publication of these transcripts Mr. Foster has conferred a great boon on students of recent academic history. . . . Of inestimable value, and very unlikely to be ever superseded. n helping him, I felt I was helping all future students of the history of Oxford.'—The Provost of Queen's College.

'We have obtained to-day the first volume of your early series of "Alumni Oxonienses," and the admirable way in which you have produced the work certainly fills one with feelings of gratitude. Of the labour involved I understand something, and I find it difficult to comprehend how you accomplish so much with such thoroughness and perfect arrangement. I trust that you will meet with some reward in the recognition of the magnitude of your services on the part of those who, like contributors to our Dictionary, benefit by your labours immediately.'—Sidney Lee.

'It is a splendid piece of work, and I am daily grateful for it.'—F. Madan, Bodleian Library.

'The accuracy is greater than I am used to find in books of reference.'—M. H. Green, Trinity Coll.

'We are much indebted to you for the trouble you have taken in compiling so useful a book of reference.'—Ll. J. M. Bebb, Librarian, Brasenose College.

'How you have contrived to complete so gigantic a task in so short a time is a mystery, and I heartily congratulate you. In looking through the books, I have found errors; but how could it be otherwise? No man but yourself would have dared to attempt to annotate such a list.'—H. Sydney Grazebrook.

'I find the "Alumni Oxonienses" a most useful book, in fact, better so every time I open it; it is quite a boon.'—Edw. H. Owen.

'I am fairly astonished at the vast amount of labour it must have cost you to compile these volumes. I am greatly pleased with them, and consider them the most valuable books of reference in my library. Posterity will owe you a deep debt of gratitude for your labours in this direction.'—F. A. Blaydes.

'I consider it the most valuable book of reference I have.'—Vere L. Oliver.

'It is a valuable book of reference, and should be in every public library, in addition to private ones.'—R. S. Arnold.

'"Alumni Oxonienses" is a work of which you may well be proud. The labour involved in producing it cannot be estimated, and no words can adequately express its value as a book of reference.'—W. H. Richardson.

'All antiquaries and all Oxford men are under deep debt of a obligation to you for your arduous labours. I only hope the book may have a very largely increased sale. It is splendidly done, and of the highest value and use. The fund of information you give is beyond all conception.'—W. G. Dimock-Fletcher.

'Allow me to have the pleasure of adding my testimony to the invaluable benefit you have conferred upon every student and lover of biography and genealogical research, by the compilation and publication of such a vast treasury of information full of interest and assistance.'—E. M. S. Parker.
